USTDA
U.S. TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

Meet Latin American and Caribbean Telecommunications Leaders

USTDA invites U.S. companies to meet senior decision-makers from Latin America and the Caribbean advancing broadband connectivity priorities. Participants will learn about upcoming project opportunities, showcase their solutions, and participate in targeted one-on-one meetings with delegates.

DATE December 9, 2026 | TIME 9:00am - 4:00pm EDT | PLACE Arlington, VA

Background

Governments and operators across Latin America and the Caribbean are accelerating broadband expansion to modernize national networks, strengthen cybersecurity, and improve service quality for homes, businesses and public institutions. As countries advance ambitious connectivity programs, they are seeking trusted U.S. partners with proven solutions that enhance network performance, reliability, and security. This event provides U.S. companies a platform to understand project pipelines, share best practices, and build relationships with regional broadband decision makers. The delegation will include representatives from Colombia, Costa Rica, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Jamaica and Mexico.

About USTDA

The U.S. Trade and Development Agency is the U.S. government's first mover on critical infrastructure development in emerging markets, advancing the shared strategic priorities of the United States and our overseas partners while creating opportunities to deploy trusted U.S. solutions. USTDA funds the upfront technical work that accelerates the development of infrastructure projects, helping them attract the financing they need for implementation and procurement of U.S. goods and services.
